

Essay Of Vocational - My Concrete Career Plan

My career goal is to become an independent fashion entrepreneur by starting a small boutique that showcases locally crafted designs. With formal training in Tailoring and Fashion Design, I have gained a strong foundation in fabric designing and color theory, which are my favorite areas. Though I struggle with public speaking and time management during peak workloads, I am actively working to improve my communication skills and customer handling through real-life experiences and participation in exhibitions.

Coming from a low-income background, I understand the value of hard work and opportunity. I'm proud to be the first in my family to receive formal vocational training, and I want to give back by training other women in my community. My achievements, like winning the Best Designer award and designing school uniforms, have boosted my confidence.

My next steps are to acquire a sewing machine and toolkit to practice at home and take small orders to build experience. Inspired by Anita Dongre, I aim to build a brand rooted in culture and empowerment. With dedication and community support, I believe I can turn this vision into a sustainable reality.
