

Profile - Vocational Training

Bindu Kumar

I am currently enrolled in the Tailoring and Fashion Design vocational course at XYZ Institute in Bangalore. I'm learning fabric designing and color theory. I enjoy sketching clothes and browsing fashion trends. My favorite subjects are fabric designing and color theory.

I have participated in local exhibitions and cultural fests, and I'm actively involved in training sessions for underprivileged girls in my locality. I won the Best Designer award in a vocational fair and also designed school uniforms for an event.

Though I struggle with public speaking and time management during peak workloads, I am working to improve my communication skills and customer handling through real-life experiences.

I come from a low-income family where my parents work as daily wage earners, and I'm proud to be the first in my family to receive formal vocational training.

Currently, I need a sewing machine and tailoring toolkit for practice and home assignments.
